1. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance: the closest prior art reference of record is the patent to Chen (6,363,523). However, the reference fails to teach or suggest the features of converting instructions in a chain of instructions to a wider base when the at least one operand carries the potential for overflow beyond a second base and when the operator is sensitive to overflow, the chain bounded by the second instruction and a third instruction that is the source of potential overflow associated with the at least one operand, the third instruction having been previously optimized, the wider base larger than the second base and smaller or equal to the first base.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
